Board Disagrees Over $6,500 Cut In CHS Athletics

It was today before the board of education adjourned a meeting which began at 7:30 p.m. yesterday and resulted in the cutting of an additional $15,800 from the proposed 1966-67 budget of the Carmel Unified School District made necessary by the failure of the 70 cent override tax in March.

Only a minority of the over 200 persons in the audience at Brey Hall left before the board lopped $6,500 from the $17,500 allocation to support the high school interscholastic athletic program. Earlier cuts were elimination of the English in-service training workshops for teachers, $6,300, and lowering the elementary summer school program cost by $3,000.

At a previous meeting, the board cut out the purchase of a school bus, $9,000; the replacement of custodians on summer vacations, $3,000; the high school summer school program, $7,500.

These sums, with last night's cuts, make a total of $35,300 towards the necessary elimination of $127,000 to balance the budget next year.

However, a previous decision to keep Palo Colorado School open next year has resulted in an increase to the proposed budget of $4,000, the cost of a well and improved toilet facilities. This item reduced last night's cuts to $31,300.

Proposed budget cuts which generated the most audience interest last night were the consideration of closing Woods School; eliminating all school bus transportation for pupils living within a seven-mile radius of any school; closing the district's kindergartens; closing school cafeterias; and the district's support of the high school interscholastic athletic program.

The board decided to leave Woods School open for one year with the provision that this decision may be reviewed after enrollment is established at Woods next year. This affirmative decision involves the relocating of Woods School enrollment boundaries, such as including all of Pebble Beach, to equalize class sizes in both Woods and River schools at 27 pupils per teacher. A petition, signed by 139 persons protested the closing of Woods.

After lengthy discussion on the elimination of school bus transportation to save an estimated $37,204, the board asked Superintendent Medill Bair to prepare budget figures for the 1966-67 school year limiting school bus transportation to pupils who live beyond seven miles from any school. Does Carmel Desire 'Conference' Use Of Sunset Center Facilities?

Motivated by a letter from the Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce, Sunset Commissioners surveyed on Monday evening what they have to offer "conferences" at the Sunset Center facility. They also decided to convene as a committee of the whole on May 16 to prepare a policy statement to classify "conference" use of the city-owned cultural and community center for the city council to act upon.

In interrelated preliminary budget discussion, commissioners discussed desirable improvements for the facility in both maintenance and capital outlay categories during the next fiscal year, also heard a report from Commissioner Rear Admiral C. W. Fisher proposing a reallocation of the city's hostelry tax income to provide funds for operation, maintenance and capital outlay costs of Sunset Center after July 1. This report will be presented to the council at its meeting next week.

The letter from the chamber of commerce was referred to Sunset commissioners by the council. In it, Margi Setchel, chamber manager, criticized Sunset Center in regard to its use by several groups of physicians which met there concurrently in January. She particularly referred to an inadequate electrical system; poor projection and screen provisions for the showing of slides in the auditorium; no chairs, projection provisions and blackout curtains in the cafeteria.

The physicians' meetings were "worth their weight in platinum" to Carmel and there was a threat of the groups moving elsewhere, she contended.

The consensus of commissioners' discussion of the letter was that any rental of Sunset Center to (Continued on Page Four)

Editor's Column

The Salinas city councilmen are now seriously discussing a new two cent tax on each package of cigarettes. They estimate additional revenue of $100,000 per year. Wouldn't this be a good idea for Carmel, too? While we are at it, how about a 10-cent tax on every bottle of hard liquor? We are certainly pleased to see visitors to Carmel enjoying the privileges of the area and contributing to the local businesses (of which we are one). We do realize that this does increase the burden on police and fire services. It does seem a great portion of these cigarette and liquor taxes would be paid by the visitors. A.C.

California's summer trout season which opens on Saturday could be the best in years, the State Department of Fish and Game reports. Joe Brackett (above), a member of the Pine Cone's backshop staff, is all set for the season which closes on October 31. The bag limit for trout is ten fish. Anyone 16 years of age or older needs a valid sport fishing license ($3) and two fishing stamps ($1 each). The department of fish and game promises fine angling in the headwaters of the Carmel River, Big Sur and Arroyo Seco rivers. This year, Carmel River, bordering the Odello Brothers artichoke ranch on both sides of Highway One, will not be open to anglers. Vandalism has caused the closing of this area near Carmel. In case anyone should think Joe was breaking the law when his picture was taken, the Pine Cone obtained special permission for the photograph last weekend. He is pondering what he could put on the end of his line if the season had been open.

BIG SUR ROAD PROJECT

The California Highway Commission last week allocated $27,000 for installing horizontal drains to stabilize a slope above Highway One approximately 2.3 miles north of Big Sur.

'Madwoman' At Circle Ought Not To Be Missed

BY DOROTHY REED

"The Madwoman of Chaillot" is a fantastic version of the eternal struggle between the good guys and the bad guys, with the good guys' leader wearing, not a white hat, but a preposterous orange wig. Laid in one of the neighborhoods of Paris "in the spring of next year," the play was written in 1942 by the French poet and dramatist Jean Giraudoux, who was waiting out the war in Switzerland.

Though no one could predict whether Paris would ever be her Gallic self again, Giraudoux filled his work with the conviction that love, sensitivity must inevitably triumph over hatred and materialism, and he made the contest hilarious rather than solemn. He guessed that his play would open in the French capital in October, 1945, and he named the producer and the theater. The latter two details he foresaw correctly; he missed the date by two months. More than a year before the production reached the stage, the playwright died in exile.

Apart from its romantic history and rich comedy, the "Madwoman," currently playing at the Circle Theatre, is both timely and topical, for its villains are despoilers of nature as well as exploiters of humanity. They are the financial manipulators (the wonderful French word is "mecs"), the managers, who add nothing of their own to the gross national product but by mysterious machinations amass great chunks of capital which must be put to work to bring in more. Human variability and human freedom upset these men; they wish all who are not like themselves to be toilers indistinguishable from one another. And there is more of them—a prospector—who is convinced that he has located oil underneath the city of Paris and who has planted a bomb that is to terrorize the authorities into allowing him to destroy the city to remove the oil. "Is a park any better than a coal mine?" he asks. "What has a mountain got that a slag pile hasn't?"

The plot is foiled first by the defection of the prospector's agent who was about to drown himself in the Seine rather than do the awful deed. He is saved by a gardener who hits him on the head to prevent his jumping in the river, then applies artificial respiration to revive him from the blow because the police manual orders this procedure in the case of would-be suicides by drowning. (The reasoning is typical).

At this point the Countess steps in, she who is known as the Madwoman of Chaillot. There seem to be such ladies in many of the quarters of Paris, eccentrics of advanced years who cling to the costumes and manners of their youth and whose logic is even more individual than their appearance. They are abhorred by the managers.

By a fantastic ruse, the Countess lures the evil-doers to her house, summons her cronies and puts on the zaniest courtroom scene in the theater. The rich men are tried in absentia with an eloquent ragpicker as the tongue-in-cheek defense attorney. (The lady who presides over the court is acknowledged by all to have a legal mind because her sister was married to a lawyer.) Duly condemned, the manipulators are allowed to pursue their own greed to their doom.

Marcia Hovick as the Countess gives a performance so persuasive that its sympathy is never overshadowed by its laughability. C. Winter Van Horn as the president of 12 corporations and Irving Rogers as the prospector are outstanding in their separate branches of villainy. Mason Wright endows the ragpicker with philosophical good humor; Don Laird plays the Gallic, down-to-earth Sergeant; William Isaacs creates a brief, memorable scene as the sewer-man.

The three visiting madwomen, Ruth McElroy, Gertrude Chappell and Betty Fowlston, appear completely at ease in their eccentricities; their total impact is incredible. Marcia Rider and Beau Stark create a wistful pair of lovers, whom the Countess unites in memory of her own early love affair whose demise has much to do with her own way of life.

The settings by Barbara Tripp are very satisfying, contrasting the everyday quality of a Chaillot cafe with the weirdness of the Countess' cellar. Fred Rider's direction keeps the mechanics of three-quarter-round production at an unobtrusive minimum.

The rest of the large cast and production crew are all to be congratulated for the totality of this play which has a moral for everyone. It ought not to be missed.

Bernard Wetzel

Requiem mass was celebrated yesterday morning at Carmel Mission Basilica for Bernard (Ben) Wetzel, a highly respected member of this community for the past 46 years. Mr. Wetzel, 80, died Monday in a local hospital after a brief illness.

A native of Germany, he was born March 11, 1886.

For many years Mr. Wetzel was a co-partner in the Carmel Bakery, the first such establishment in the city and renowned for its excellence in the surrounding counties and the San Francisco Bay area. He was a long-standing member of the Manzanita Club and one of its past presidents.

Mr. Wetzel leaves his wife, Elsa, of Carmel; two daughters, Mrs. Mary Miller of San Francisco and Mrs. Helen Lillard of San Jose; a brother, Theodore Wetzel of New York; three grandchildren and many nieces and nephews.

Burial took place in the Catholic section of Mission Memorial Park. The Mission Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Paul Thomas

Word has been received of the death on April 21 of Paul D. Thomas of Oakland, brother of Mrs. Mark Raggett and Dr. Faith Thomas of Carmel, who was killed when his car was struck by a train at Monolith, Kern County. With him was his wife, Ruth, who escaped before the auto was hit when stalled on the railroad tracks.

Mr. Thomas, 61, was a retired educator and a former president of the California Teachers Association.

In addition to his wife, he leaves a son, Paul Jr., of Pleasant Hill and a daughter, Diana, of Palo Alto.

Autograph Party For Dick Farina

Dick Farina of Carmel Highlands, already known for his musical compositions and recordings made with Mimi Baez who is Mrs. Farina, will be honored with an autograph party Saturday afternoon, from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Thunderbird Shop in Carmel Valley Village. Mr. Farina's first novel, "Been Down So Long It Looks Like Up To Me," has just been published by Random House.

The book offers a new contender for top man in the currently popular anti-hero types of today's fiction—Gnosios Pappadopoulos—who makes the scene in such varied areas as the green felt jungles of Las Vegas, the vast frozen north woods, revolution-torn Cuba—by ship, hitchhiking, executive jet-flight and stolen automobile—but mostly on the campus of Ivy-league Mentor University.

The public is invited to meet Mr. Farina on Saturday and help celebrate his publication day with music and refreshments.

Party Plans

By Phyllis Jervey

One of the most delightful customs of Hawaii is lei giving. This coming Sunday, May 1, residents of the Islands will celebrate Lei Day, originated by the late Don Blanding of Carmel.

The gift of leis symbolizes many emotions: joy, welcome, farewell, love and comradeship. Some feelings are hard to express, so when a fragrant fresh flower garland is placed around one's neck it shows a touching sentiment. The traditional way to present a lei is to accompany it with a kiss or at least an embrace.

As our friend Don Blanding turned May Day into Lei Day in Hawaii, we'll quote about curries from his book of verse "Vagabond House." (His former Carmel home is still called by that name.)

"Lobster curry on mounds of rice . . .

If you like curry it's mighty nice
With grated coconut, feathered down,

Little green onions frizzled brown,

Nuts, and the yolks of hard-boiled eggs,

Mango chutney and garlic pegs,
Minced green peppers and chow-chow, too,

And everything else that occurs to you!"

As this liting little poem indicates, imagine trying to serve a curried dish without rice, a bland foil for the spicy, tongue-tingling curry sauce and exotic condiments. Curries are especially suited for today's "do-ahead" luncheons (called tiffins in the Far East), Sunday brunches, suppers or buffets. With the addition of a fruit sherbet, beer or wine, both well chilled, or iced tea, Hawaiian curry and rice menus are excitingly different "meals-in-themselves."

Don Blanding's Hawaiian Curry in a Coconut and Rice in a Pineapple Shell with Exciting Condiments

With cleaver strike a large fresh coconut (just turning yellow) a sharp blow one inch from the top (if you have a willing man in the house!). Or, if you use the dried brown coconuts we import here, there's nothing better than the modern miracle kitchen knife which cuts frozen foods and coconuts! Remove top of said coconut. Cut out coconut meat and grate it. The Hawaiian coconut in its natural state is so meaty that the liquid becomes thick as cream after 2 hours of simmering. But we are now discussing making a dried coconut sauce. Let the grated hard coconut meat stand in its own milk with enough canned milk (or real fresh cream) to make 2 cups milk to 1 cup grated coconut. Simmer in double boiler, to prevent curdling, until thickened. Strain through two thicknesses of cheesecloth and squeeze to form a luscious coco-cream.

The picture above shows how to serve Don Blanding's Hawaiian Curry in a Coconut and Rice in a Pineapple Shell with Exciting Condiments as described by Phyllis Jervey in this week's Party Plans column which also gives the recipes for this delicious food.

So much for the sauce. Now let's talk about

Curried Lobster or Shrimp (Serves 6)

Three lbs. fresh or frozen lobster tails or jumbo shrimp; 3 tbsps. best curry powder; 3 cups lobster or shrimp broth; powdered or grated ginger, salt, paprika, parsley; 3 cups cooked white rice; 3 green onions with tops, chopped; 2 cloves garlic put through press or minced; melted butter; fresh pineapple shells.

Boil lobster tails or the shrimp in seasoned water just to cover. Remove meat, peel and throw shells back into same water. Make a savory broth by simmering gently, then when a certain strength is obtained let stand to cool without removing shells. Saute onions and garlic in butter, add curry powder and then very gradually the strained broth, stirring constantly to form a smooth sauce. Return seafood (the lobster has been sliced into good-sized chunks) to broth. If this does not seem thick enough, add just a bit of arrowroot mixed with water but curry thickens by itself if allowed to stand. This is why it makes such a super do-it-ahead dish. Put this delectable mixture into coconut shells, return tops and seal each with a paste made from flour and water. Wrap each whole coconut completely in double duty foil; place in pan filled half full with water. Bake in 400 F. oven. After about an hour, remove foil and serve curry right in individual coconut shell at the table, indoors or outside. Pass the flaky rice in hollowed fresh pineapple halves with the following Hawaiian-style condiments. The cut up pineapple can be used to make a refreshing sherbet for dessert.

For condiments with an Hawaiian touch use whatever you have on hand, or as Don Blanding said: "everything else that occurs to you!" In separate little dishes, each with its own spoon, have chopped green onions with tops; sliced golden papaya; grated fresh or dehydrated coconut; fried crisp bacon bits; sliced bananas soaked in lime or lemon juice and lightly salted; do the same with avocado cubes or slices to keep from darkening; toasted macadamia or other nuts, broken; the all important chutney; canned fried onion rings reheated until crisp; anchovies or kippered herring to replace the traditional "bombay duck" (a dried fish); grapefruit or mandarin orange sections. The list is endless but keep it within taste bounds. Actually a curry-rice concoction needs only the cherished chutney (there are marvelous homemade ones which are a smashing success). So if you're in a hurry to serve your curry here's a family favorite to have on hand:

Don's Favorite Chutney (Makes 8 small jars)

One cup malt vinegar; 3 cups brown sugar; 8 green apples; 8 green pears; ½ lb. seedless raisins; 1 tbsp. preserved ginger; ½ tsp. each powdered allspice; cinnamon; nutmeg; a quick dash of cayenne pepper; sliced blanched almonds; about ¾ pint water; salt; 3 garlic cloves minced; ½ tsp. mustard seeds; ½ lb. packaged currants; 2 dry hot small chiles; paraffin.

Make a syrup of the vinegar, water and brown sugar. Sprinkle peeled, thinly sliced green apples and pears with salt. Add these to syrup. Cook gently until almost soft, with minced garlic, mustard seeds, raisins and currants; chopped ginger, minced seeded chiles, sliced almonds (these come packaged) seasonings and additional salt to taste. When right

A New Horan In Colombia

From Bogota, Colombia, comes word that Mr. and Mrs. Laurence D. Horan became parents for the fifth time on March 29, when their new daughter, Laura Jean, arrived on the scene. "We resisted the demands of the children," Laura's proud father writes, "to name her Isabel or Maria Rosa—both pretty names but not very Irish." Considering where the family has lived for almost two years, it is only natural that the children, Kevin, Maureen, Kathleen and Stephen, were strongly in favor of a Spanish name for their new sister.

Mr. Horan, a partner in the law firm of Farr, Horan, Willson and Lloyd in Carmel, was administrator of the Peace Corps in Costa Rica from mid-1964 until October, 1965, when he assumed the same position in Colombia. The Horans are expected to return to Carmel in February of next year.

A Wedding In The Future

On a student ship plying the Atlantic in 1963 was Gisela Wulkow, returning to her native Germany after a year as an exchange scholar in Ohio. Aboard the same vessel was Fredric R. Scheffer of Carmel, bound for Sweden but eventually to remain and work for two years in Germany, where, most naturally, he sought out his shipboard acquaintance. So, though there is a storybook quality in the romance, it comes as no surprise to their parents that the young couple plans to be married in the Spring of next year.

Miss Wulkow, who has been a guest of her fiancé's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Scheffer of Carmel, for the past six weeks, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Helmut Wulkow of Dillenburg, Germany. She is returning to Europe Sunday to resume her language studies, having completed her examinations at Wilhelm-von-Oranien Schule in February. The bride-to-be is the sister of Mrs. Irmela Werning and Dieter Wulkow of Dillenburg and of Rainer Wulkow, currently an exchange student in Oregon.

Fred is the brother of Mrs. Robert Douglas and of David and Ann Scheffer of Carmel. A graduate of Carmel High School and Monterey Peninsula College, he is the manager of British Automotive Imports of Monterey.

Bert Graduates, Enters Army

Scarcely had Bert Blanks received his B.A. in English from the University of California, Berkeley, when he was inducted into the U.S. Army last week. He phoned last night to tell his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Blanks, that he has been accepted for officers' candidate school and is on his way to Fort Jackson, North Carolina. Bert, a Carmel High School graduate, will later train at Fort Benning, Georgia.

New Grandson In The Family

Mrs. James Moore has just returned from an eventful six weeks in La Jolla, where both her son's and daughter's families are now residents. While engrossed in the strenuous but rewarding task of caring for three grandchildren while their mother, Mrs. Robert Wintringer (Susie Moore), was in the East, Mrs. Moore was on hand to welcome a new grandson. Born on April 13, William Franklin Moore Jr. is the first child of her son and daughter-in-law, Commander William F. Moore (USN) and Mrs. Moore.

Commander Moore spent a great deal of time on the Peninsula during his undergraduate days at Stanford University, also as a student at the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School. He is a veteran fighter-plane pilot of the Korean War and, last year, received the Air Medal for combat missions flown over South Viet Nam while serving aboard the aircraft carrier USS Ticonderoga.

The Moores' new son is the grandson, also, of Captain and Mrs. Roy Bishop of Richmond, Virginia, who are currently stationed at the Naval base at Memphis, Tennessee. The baby's pater-

Carmel Spring Clean-Up Campaign

Clean up . . . prevent fires!

This is the basically important reason for the Spring Clean-Up campaign which starts in Carmel on May 1, Fire Chief J. Robert Baker announced today.

"Fires in U.S. homes are taking about 6,500 lives yearly, according to National Fire Protection Association figures, and one of the major causes of dwelling fires is rubbish and trash," Chief Baker stressed.

"One American home is destroyed or damaged by fire starting in rubbish every 12 minutes, these same NFPA statistics show. So our goal for Spring Clean-Up is to make every home in this community safer from fire. This means a concentrated attack on the spots in and around houses where fires start—accumulations in attics, basements and closets, any place there is trash and rubbish," he said.

nal grandfather is now in the Philippine Islands, where he is engaged in engineering.

Writer Presented Program

Maxine Shore, author and teacher of creative writing, presented a highly absorbing book review of "Avalon," by Anya Seton, at a recent meeting of the Carmel Woman's Club book section. She also touched on highlights of other historical novels set in the early centuries. Mrs. Shore, herself, is the author of seven historical books, the most recent being "The Captive Princess," a novel about the first Christian princess of Britain.

Several of Mrs. Shore's students in her writing classes at the Carmel Adult School have had books accepted for publication and three have earned the Poet Laureate of the Monterey Peninsula award in the annual Midsummer Poetry Contest.

Guest At The Geisens

Does Carmel Desire Conference Use Of Sunset Center?

"conferences" this year had been "bare wall basis"; for similar use of the center in the future, a policy should be established and approved by the city council; desirable improvements either already being made or proposed for the coming budget year might eliminate some of the items criticized by Mrs. Setchel.

"We all feel a sense of duty to use Sunset Center in a way to enhance its value to Carmel by the highest and best use, but we have got to realize that in order to prevent it becoming a white elephant we must bring it up to standard," Commissioner Ted Fehring said in defense of use of the facility by "high type, clean, small conferences."

Commissioner Captain Frank Falge observed that Mrs. Setchel's letter "pinpointed" the fact that Sunset Center maintenance was "bad." He added that authorized work on the electrical system had been delayed and there was a need "to get it done."

"It is healthy to keep it busy," said Commissioner Jean van Loben Sels in opposition to Admiral Fisher's contention that more and better "conference" use of Sunset was not desirable.

"It is my understanding Carmel never sought convention business,"

Admiral Fisher emphasized. He also stated that he understood the Sunset Commission to be "strongly opposed to Carmel becoming a convention city."

Commissioner James Pruitt remarked that Mrs. Setchel's letter would serve the purpose of making the commission, the council and the population of Carmel think: look carefully at Sunset Center in order not "to get caught in an impossible corner taxwise" by any wishful thinking that "they can stand in front of progress." He stressed that the tax base of the city was tied to its commercial life.

"We must establish criteria for part-time use that is not objectionable to the people of the town," Commissioner Dr. James Gilman stated in reference to the use of Sunset Center by "educational organizations." He advised that the matter of "conferences" by such groups be "aired thoroughly."

Chairman Peter Dyer set this matter for further consideration and preparation of recommendation for the council.

Admiral Fisher's report on the reallocation of hostelry tax funds to provide money for the operation and improvement of Sunset Center proposed that the municipal code be changed to allow (1) "Not more than 25 percent be available for the operation and maintenance of the Sunset property; (2) receipts from the hostelry tax may be used for approved capital outlay items for the Sunset property."

He added that "repairs, safety measures and certain improvements and alterations are needed. Receipts from users and possible donations will be insufficient to pay for these." He proposed the difference be met by the reallocation of the hostelry tax.

Among the above matters which would be covered by the proposed change were preliminary budget considerations by Sunset commissioners Monday. These were painting the inside of the auditorium; the replacement of some seats in the auditorium; two additional fire exit doors in the auditorium; a manager for the auditorium; better lighting in the lobby; improvement of parking provisions; tables and chairs for the cafeteria; repair or replacement of defective plumbing, especially in rest rooms. Final decisions on these items will be made next month.

COUNCIL CONSIDERS CITY TREASURER APPOINTMENT

The Carmel city council met in executive session Tuesday to consider the appointment of a city treasurer. The selection of a successor to Sam Coleman, who resigned on April 19, because of ill health, was continued until next week.

Mission Ranch Owner Fatally Shot In Mexico

Bert G. Dienelt, owner of the Mission Ranch, was shot and killed Monday night in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, by two men who robbed and beat him and his wife at their home in the Pacific coast resort town. Mrs. Dienelt, who suffered a broken hand and shock, is reported to be recovering in the village's hospital. Her son, Charles (Skip) Heebner, manager of the Mission Ranch, flew to Mexico after having been notified of the tragedy by the Dienelts' Mexican attorney. Her daughter, Mrs. Margaret Heebner Schoell, lives in the vicinity of Vallarta with her four children.

Facts of the crime are scant because of lack of communication with the area. Puerto Vallarta police, however, are known to be investigating and are said to have asked assistance from authorities in Guadalajara. Mrs. Dienelt, according to reports available, said the English-speaking attackers continued their senseless beating of her husband even after being offered anything in the house. Leaving Mrs. Dienelt unconscious, the robbers escaped with $400 in cash.

Mr. Dienelt, who was born in West Virginia on August 5, 1896, had owned a chain of restaurants in the East and had managed the Fairmount Hotel in Washington, D.C. before coming to California. In Burlingame, he was the owner of the Packard auto agency until business interests brought him to Carmel in 1941. Shortly after that, he became the owner-operator of Sade's restaurant and later purchased the Mission Ranch.

During the 1950s, the Dienelts divided their time between Carmel, Taxco, Mexico, and Europe. About 1956 they bought and began the extensive remodeling of the house in Puerto Vallarta which became a center of hospitality for their local friends and those visiting from the United States. They retained a section of their former residence at Rancho Alto in Carmel Valley for use while here. Mr. Dienelt had numerous business interests in Puerto Vallarta, also owned, with his wife, Margaret, historic Gunn House in Sonora, California, which they remodeled into an inn.

Mr. Dienelt was buried Tuesday in Puerto Vallarta.

HIGH TWELVE CLUB

High Twelve Club of Carmel had a record attendance of over 100 members at the April 25 luncheon meeting at Cypress Club. Members present included Mayor Steve Grant, Herbert Blanks, former mayor, and Police Chief Clyde Klummann. Peter Kutschera's birthday was observed. He was asked to introduce the speaker, Judge Eugene Harrah.

Stock Market Notes

By Hugh Hannon

You hear people say "The stock market is too high." One way to answer this question is: "You can't buy the stock market, you buy individual stocks."

There are two stocks being bought now for capital gains.

The first, Owens-Corning Fiberglass, has been going down and sideways for six years. It looks like a good buy now, not because it is down to $85 from its old high of $122, but because its earnings are starting to go up. This upward earnings trend which is expected to continue for some years should make the stock rise. In 1960 it earned $2.19 and sold at $122 per share; in 1966 it is expected to earn $3.30 and it sells at $85.

The second stock has been going up for the last six years, from under $20 in 1960 to $200 today. Why buy it after this gigantic rise? Because the upward earnings trend is still strong. A professional analyst says, "Northwest Airlines is our number one choice for new trading money at the present time. Our 1966 forecast calls for $14 per share. Northwest Airlines is tracing a dynamic major uptrend."

So don't ask "Is the market up or down or even is the stock high or low? Ask, What is the earnings trend?"

A few interesting Wednesday quotations are Bank of America 48% to 49%; Crocker Citizens Bank 33% to 34%; United California Bank 51½ to 52½; Wells Fargo Bank 36 to 36½; Del Monte Properties 23½ to 25.

Woman's Club Lecture

"Eastern Philosophy and Western Life" will be the topic of guest speaker Aly Wassil at the general meeting of the Carmel Woman's Club on Monday at 2 p.m. The international president of United World Religions, he is considered a gifted lecturer on philosophy, religion and world affairs and is the author of "The Wisdom of Christ."

Aly Wassil brings to his subject an interesting blend of Eastern and Western ideologies. Born an Indian Moslem, he has also studied Hinduism and Christianity. His education at Indian universities was followed by advanced work at Cambridge University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Harvard and the University of California, where he was director of the model United Nations.

Mrs. E. J. Jackemy, hospitality chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. F. Reynolds, Mrs. Alan Davis and Miss Mildred Moore. Mrs. Alfred B. Wells, Mrs. E. H. Ewig, Mrs. Anthony Bruyau and Mrs. Chester Stratton will preside at the tea tables following the meeting.

KINDERGARTEN REGISTRATION ALL NEXT WEEK

Enrollment for kindergarten classes in the Carmel schools will be held Monday through Friday from 9-11:30 a.m. and from 1:30-3:30 p.m. daily.

By state law, a child must have been born on or before December 2, 1961, to be registered in kindergarten for the fall, 1966, term. It is necessary that parents bring some legal proof of the child's birth.

It is also required by state law that any child entering school must have polio immunizations unless they are exempt because of religious belief. If so, a statement of exemption will then be filed with the board of the Carmel Unified School District.

Missed Connections

Last week, after reporting Peace Corps volunteer Frank Palmer's transfer from Panama. City to the mountains of northern Panama, it was learned that his father, Dr. Francis H. Palmer, had just missed seeing Frank. Dr. Palmer, who is engaged in research at the Child Development Center of City University, New York, was returning from a speaking engagement in Peru when he stopped off in Panama. He found that his son had just headed north and, unfortunately, Dr. Palmer didn't have time to follow his trail on what was said to be an arduous expedition via horseback.

Tennis At Belvedere

Several members of the Pebble Beach Tennis Club traveled to Belvedere Friday, where they were guests of the Belvedere Tennis Club during its Women's Invitational Tournament. Those who enjoyed the sports event (if not the score) and were entertained by the host club were Mrs. Jane Dunaway, Mrs. Lise Tescher, Mrs. F. Robert Smith, Miss Barbara Burdick, Mrs. Jerry Lustre, Mrs. L. Bruce Meyer, Mrs. Charles Page and Mrs. Jack J. Miller.

Raynes To Judge Show

Mr. and Mrs. Derek Rayne are among those chosen as judges for the Kennel Club of Beverly Hills All Breed Dog Show and Obedience Trials to be held June 25-26 in Los Angeles. More than 125 breeds will be on exhibition at the event, one of the largest dog shows in the country.

Lieutenant Akselsen Was Here

Second Lieutenant Jon I. Akselsen returned to Fort Benning, Georgia, on Friday after enjoying his leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivar Akselsen of Carmel, and a trip to the San Francisco Bay area, where the family has many friends.

Earlier this month, the young officer completed the Army Infantry School's three-week airborne course at Fort Benning. The training, which included five jumps from a C-130 airplane flying 170 miles an hour at an altitude of 1,250 feet, qualified him as a parachutist. A graduate of Robert Louis Stevenson School, Lieutenant Akselsen attended San Jose State College before entering the service.

Librarian Leaves Carmel

The staff of Carmel's Harrison Memorial Library will say goodbye tomorrow, with regret, to Mrs. Warren E. (Georgette) Bordine, who is leaving to join her husband at Fort Huachuca in Arizona. Mrs. Bordine began working at the library when PFC Bordine was at the Defense Language Institute. A meteorological observer who has served at Fort Dix and Monmouth, New Jersey, he was assigned last month to the U. S. Army Meteorological Team at his new post.

Klenes Enjoying Travels

"Iran was fascinating and colorful," a postcard from Mrs. L. W. Klene relates. "We visited Persian families whose sons attend Monterey Peninsula College, and have eaten fresh caviar until it's coming out of our ears!" From Isfahan, Iran, the Klenes flew to Athens, thence to Thessalonika to see northern Greece, where they found Alexander the Great's birthplace green, fertile and filled with interesting sights.

Though Mrs. Klene's note to Mrs. Edward Kuster did not mention the couple's next destination, it did indicate that their planned trip to India had been cancelled because of current conditions there.

Helms Welcome New Grandson

Mrs. Walter Helm couldn't disguise the joy in her voice when she said "We think we'll keep him." "Him" is the Helms' first grandson, Phillip Walter Hansen, who was born April 14 to Mr. and Mrs. James B. Hansen (Betsy Helm) of Corcoran. Mrs. Helm spent a week with her son-in-law and daughter, admiring the new baby and lending a hand in the household.

Phillip's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Phillip Hansen, is a resident of Corcoran, as are an uncle and aunt, Jess and Christine Hansen.

Other uncles and aunts are Walter Helm Jr. of San Francisco, Anthony Helm, a seminary student in Fresno, and Molly, Margie, Susan and Teresa Helm of Carmel.

Join Cattle Group

Bob, Philip J. and Clinton J. Zobel, all of Carmel, have been elected to membership in the American Angus Association of St. Joseph, Missouri.

There were 666 memberships issued to breeders of registered Aberdeen-Angus in the United States during the past month, Glen Bratcher, secretary of the association announces.

Speaking Engagements

Roderick Holmgren of Carmel, chairman of the Monterey Peninsula College journalism department, went to Sacramento Saturday to lead a panel on "Making Good Stories Better" for a California Labor Press Association workshop.

The CLPA was organized by the University of California Center for Labor Research and Education in Berkeley.

Mr. Holmgren will also speak May 10 at the annual luncheon of the Marin Motion Picture and Television Council in San Rafael, with "Has the Time Come for Film Classification?" as his topic. The council is made up of PTA groups from every primary and parochial school in Marin and Sonoma counties.

Reception For Musicians

Following their Saturday evening concert at Sunset auditorium, musicians of the California Chamber Symphony were honored at a reception and buffet supper at the home of Mrs. Clinton Collins. Mrs. Gunnar (Barbara) Norberg, chairman of the Carmel Arts Commission, and Mr. Norberg were co-hosts for the delightful gathering.

where numerous guests expressed their appreciation of the splendid concert.

Invited to meet members of the string octet, including the symphony's founder and director, noted violin soloist Henri Temianka, were other members of the arts commission, Carmel city councilmen and their wives, heads of musical organizations and close friends of Mr. Temianka.

The concert was jointly sponsored by the Carmel Arts Commission and the California Arts Commission.

BURRO PACK TRIP INTO SANTA LUCIAS

A six-day burro, back packing adventure into the Los Padres National Forest and Ventana Wild Area of the Santa Lucia Mountains was the unique and happy experience of 15 members of the Ventana Chapter of the Sierra Club and their guests during the Easter Week vacation.

The group, which was led by Elizabeth Fuller Jones of Carmel, included a lively contingent of teen-agers, several adults, Anthony C. Zufich, owner of the six burros and a handsome German shepherd dog.

The point of departure was China Camp, at Chews Ridge, off the Tassajara Road. The weather was perfect—cool to frosty nights and days of warm sunshine. It took a while to get the burros saddled and loaded and for the good-byes and last minute picture taking.

It's quite a climb, right at first, out of China Camp to the ridge. The hikers made frequent stops and stand up rests so no one would become too unhappy at the beginning of the trip. Destination was Pine Valley which was reached by mid-afternoon. Pine Valley was a busy place, with many groups coming and going and others stopping for a night or two. The Sierra Club group camped at the far end of the campground—a good location for privacy, closeness to the spring, creek and broad, grassy bed sites.

On this type of burro-pack trip, the menus are a surprise to most participants. Instead of the anticipated "one course" meal there is a delightful combination of fresh meats and vegetables, dehydrated foods, fruits, gelatin desserts, freshly baked cakes, puddings, soups and breakfast "hot fruit," all of which prove to be attractive and delicious.

Everyone loved Pine Valley so much, now in its spring dress, that it was decided to make it the base camp for the entire week. The valley is a broad, pine-surrounded area, with great rock formations, numerous pot holes, caves and other reminders of the days the Indians made this their home.

It was full moon which added to everyone's enjoyment. About a mile from camp is a beautiful cave, very shallow, shaped in a half circle, an ideal place for evening sings. There was no need for flashlights as the group made their way up the hill and scaled the narrow rock ledge. Gathered together, singing in this enchanting setting is a memorable experience.

A one-day trip was a hike down along Pine Creek to the waterfalls and the very headwaters of the Carmel River. Here, with the cautious use of ropes, members of the group scrambled down to the lovely pool below the falls for lunch and an afternoon of swimming.

Another day it was a dozen-mile hike up to Pine Ridge for lunch and lovely views of the Ventana Cone, the Double Cone, Uncle Sam Mountain and the distant sea.

Other delights were the colorful slopes of the Santa Lucias now bright with sky lupine, yellow violets, poppies and baby blue eyes. In other areas were the handsome shaggy manzanita in bloom and the delicate fuchsia-flowered gooseberry.

It is an impressive sight as the hikers, the burros, each being fondly led by a member of the group, with the dog out front, move along the trails of the Santa Lucias.

In addition to the days filled with hiking, exploring, swimming and generally enjoying the loveliness of the extraordinarily beautiful mountain areas, there were tangible ways in which these conservation-minded members of the Sierra Club expressed their appreciation for use of these public lands. To help make Pine Valley and environs a little more pleasant for future visitors, the members of the group spent time in digging a deep garbage pit; covering the existing overflowing garbage pit; gathering up debris and cans left by thoughtless campers over a wide area of the valley; cleaning litter from the spring and the creek.

Burro back pack trip members came from Carmel, Monterey, Pacific Grove and Salinas and included Patricia Aldrich, Joyce Laughton, Sue Vivell, Mary Neighbors, Bonnie Bailey, Kathy Anderson, Anita Wilhelm, Dean McConnell, Robert McConnell, Beth Zanides, Harry Fulton, Sally Armstrong, Pamela Benoit, Anthony Zufich and Elizabeth Jones.

This past weekend, 29 people, representing six families—mothers, fathers and children—from the Loma Prieta Chapter of the Sierra Club, took a similar burro back pack trip. The group left from the Los Padres dam, hiked to Danish Creek where they camped overnight, then returned to Los Padres dam for their return to homes in the San Francisco Peninsula area.

Divers Cut Kelp In Pebble Beach

Some 30 members of the Lockheed Scuba Knights, an organization of experienced scuba divers affiliated with the Lockheed Missiles & Space Company of Sunnyvale, traveled to Pebble Beach to cut the kelp on Saturday and Sunday in order to clear Stillwater Cove for sailing, especially for the small Toro boats used in the junior program by the Stillwater Yacht Club. The group also opened a channel out to Carmel Bay for visiting yachts and the 26 Mercurys in the Stillwater fleet which were unable to navigate this area because of the luxurious growth of kelp since last season.

The divers put in some 2,000 total hours working on the project. Wives and children who accompanied the men here made a total of 75 persons who took part in the beach picnics provided by the Beach Club during the operation. C. Lawrence Washburn of Carmel Valley, port captain for Stillwater Cove, and Commander Don F. Ferrin of Marina worked with Dave Stoner, president of the Lockheed diving group, to coordinate the project.

twice tomorrow: at 7 and 9 p.m.

The film, with English dialogue and songs sung in Greek, tells the story of how an appealing, hoydenish young girl (Aliki Vouyouklaki) foils the attempts of a wily old lawyer (Wilfred Hyde White) and his handsome young client (Jess Conrad) to change the unspoiled island in the Aegean into a tourist trap.

FREE CONCERT AT CARMEL HIGH TONIGHT

The public is invited to a concert being offered tonight by the music department of Carmel High School at 7:30 p.m. in Brey Hall, at the high school campus. There is no admission charge.

Senior members of the department who will offer solos include Jon McCaman, baritone; John Morrice, violin; Larry Hearn, flute; David Erickson, baritone horn; and Greg Sprung, trumpet. Performing groups are a string ensemble directed by Sharon Jones, a glee club directed by William Purdy and the choir and band directed by John Farr.

State Announces Low Bidder On Fort Ord-Carmel Hill Freeway

A low bid for freeway construction reaching part way up Carmel Hill was received by the California Division of Highways last week. The bid of $9,721,853 was submitted jointly by Granite Construction Company and Lew Jones Construction Company, a Watsonville firm.

The new construction will extend from the south boundary of Fort Ord to just beyond the south city limit of Monterey and cut driving time in half between the two points.

Seven interchanges will be built in connection with the four and six lane freeway. One of these, near the proposed Del Monte Shopping Center, will provide access between the freeway and Munras Avenue and Soledad Drive on the northwest; Viejo Road and Sylvan Road on the southeast.

A release from the division of highways states, "Special emphasis will be given to aesthetic considerations in the design of this project. Cut and fill slopes will receive special treatment to present an appearance compatible with the natural beauty of the surrounding terrain. Every effort will be made to save trees wherever possible. All bridges have been given special consideration to achieve designs that will best fit in with the characteristics of the Monterey Peninsula."

A vista point will be constructed at Viejo Road. This will provide a panoramic view of Monterey Bay to the north.

At the request of the City of Monterey, Douglas Baylis, noted San Francisco landscape architect, has been hired by the state to work with the division of highways and the Monterey Highway Advisory Committee. The latter body has reviewed the freeway project and advised highway representatives on steps that can be taken to add aesthetic values to the project. Members of this group include Fred Keeble, a Carmel planning commissioner, and Will Shaw, a Carmel architect.

Retired Professor Shares Memories

"Too Short The Days" is a book written by Edgar Bruce Wesley of Hacienda Carmel and published locally. It gives an account of his childhood in Kentucky, also his preparatory school years.

Life moved at a much slower pace for children and youth at the time described by the author. Work was more than well mixed with play. Study was self-disciplined, not the result of a set of rules. But the way of a boy with a dog then was the same as today. This book is a collection of reminiscences for those who delight in nostalgically turning the clock backwards.

Edgar Wesley was professor of education and history at the University of Minnesota. He retired in 1959 to take up an active life as a "tramp professor," first at Stan-ers, Mr. Talcott said on his departure for Washington. He was here during the Congressional Easter recess to assess voter reactions.

District campaign headquarters for the re-election of Mr. Talcott have been opened at 140 West Franklin Street, Monterey.

MPVS VOTES

FUND ALLOCATIONS

Members of the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services, at their April monthly meeting, voted to donate $2,000 to the Lyceum, the Peninsula association for gifted children; $200 to the Student Employment Service for the printing of forms; and $90 to the World Affairs Council of the Monterey Peninsula for six scholarships to be given to local high school students to attend the annual conference at Asilomar in May. The funds being donated have been raised by sales at the MPVS Thrift Shop.

Proceeds from the Tombola Mart, the MPVS fall project which will be held at the Monterey County Fairgrounds October 12, will be divided among the Family Service Agency, Monterey County Symphony Association and Visiting Nurse Association.

Talcott Receives New Appointment

At the close of his 11-day visit to the 12th Congressional District on April 17, Representative Burt L. Talcott announced that he has been appointed western regional whip by Republican House members to replace the late Representative John F. Baldwin of Martinez.

The assignment is regarded in Congress as an important and strategic staff position which rarely goes to younger members of the House.

'Sing Out' Snow Job

(Reprinted from El Yanqui)

One of the most rewarding things we can do in this world is to devote ourselves to a cause. Some MPC students are currently devoting themselves to Moral Re-Armament.

Anyone who saw the "Sing-Out" show when it appeared recently has to admit the group has talent. We were also impressed by their sincerity. We were not impressed by their message.

In spite of all the publicity and testimonials preceding their appearance, we noticed that Moral Re-Armament (bless its little tax-exempt heart) demanded a guaranteed net profit of $3,000. Lodging and food had to be provided for the members and all expenses for halls and publicity covered by the community.

We got the impression that we were supposed to feel indebted to MRA for coming here.

Vague Generalizations

We were not completely snowed by all the vague generalizations and lovely abstractions either. Getting little sense out of their "message," we did some research on MRA.

Mostly we found a lot of verbiage that must have been written by MRA public relations officials. We also found some perceptive comments by some responsible people who weren't completely dazzled either.

Dr. Horton Davis, in his book Christian Deviations (SCM Press, 1954), said, "The Oxford Group (MRA) cannot be entirely freed from the charge of snobbery, social and spiritual. Their predilection for the company of the famous and the affluent . . . is well-known. Moreover, their attitude to the ordinary church-goer savours of Pharisaism."

Absolute Purity, Honesty, Love and Unselfishness

Pharisaism has come to mean self-righteousness and hypocrisy. Let's remember this is a group that has taken as its standards Absolute Purity, Honesty, Love and Unselfishness.

Another study was made of MRA, in 1955, this time by the Episcopal Church of England. They, too, were disturbed by MRA's approach but for different reasons. They were concerned about the group's intercessions in politics. They reported, "To assume, as MRA apparently does, that 'new men' automatically lead to a solution of the world's problems fails to diagnose the nature of many of the world's social problems, (which) are not directly due to purely personal immorality and are therefore not cured by purely personal morality . . . Evil resides in human history in more subtle ways than MRA has discovered."

Elsewhere in the same report, the organization said, "We have at times been haunted by a picture of the movement, with its hectic heartiness, its mass gaiety and its reiterated slogans, as a colossal drive of escapism from . . . responsible living."

Appeal to Emotions

We got this feeling also, while watching the MRA-sponsored show. The show was a not-very-subtle appeal to our emotions. In fact, looking at the keyed-up, intense young faces, we were reminded of films of Hitler's Youth.

We're a little concerned about MRA's right-wing tendencies. Back in 1936, Dr. Frank Buchman, founder and then leader of MRA, said, "I thank heaven for a man like Adolph Hitler, who built a front line of defense against the anti-Christ of Communism."

A more myopic statement would be hard to find in the entire history of the world.

Praise for Adolf Hitler

Buchman didn't stop with that; he put his foot even farther in his mouth: "Think what it would mean to the world if Hitler surrendered to the control of God, Or Mussolini, Or any dictator. Through such a man God could control a nation overnight and solve every last, bewildering problem."

Does MRA believe God is himself a dictator? How could Buchman even consider a dictatorship as a good thing?

Buchman's naivete lies in his failure to see that a dictatorship is not evil just because it has an evil man as dictator.

It is one thing to accept the standard of Absolute Honesty and another to be absolutely honest. In most MRA literature we find boasting and exaggeration. Perhaps a humorous anecdote will show you what we mean.

Talk of Over-Optimism

In 1949, Miss Honor Tracy, a female journalist, visited the MRA headquarters at Caux, Switzerland. In an article for the New Statesman, she wrote:

"I drew the attention of the Press Officer to what looked like over-optimism in some of his hand-outs, and taxed him with having on one occasion told me a plain fib. He hung his head:

"I'm not Absolutely Honest yet," he groaned. "Sorry!"

"A remark of this kind immediately makes one a friend for life, but it would be helpful if MRA prefaced its publicity material with a note to say that as the editors are still in the process of Change, the contents should be taken with a grain of salt."

Amen.

Praise from Adults

There has been quite a bit of praise for the "Sing-Out" show in the local papers. Most of it from adults. Since most of us students are too young to remember, perhaps, these same people may remember another Moral Re-Armament show, "The Good Road," in 1948.

It was remarkably like the 1966 version. Another talent show with a "message," it consisted of: Swiss yodelers, Joan of Arc, Lincoln, Washington, the Magna Carta, a GI on Okinawa, and an average family. To those who saw the entire show, doesn't it sound a little familiar?

Many Young People Believe

Obviously, originality of ideas can't be listed as one of MRA's strong points. We think this is a shame, because many young people in this movement actually believe they are making a fresh start at solving the world's problems.

MRA, we believe, is giving idealistic young people false hopes. The world's problems did not appear in a day, or year, or years, they will not be solved by a few songs and shining faces. But Moral Re-Armament is right about one thing, right now is the time to do something. That something is getting the very best education possible so we can meet the tests of today and tomorrow.

Youth Speaks Out

The youth of today, more than ever before, is a questioning generation. The Pine Cone is reprinting an editorial from El Yanqui, Monterey Peninsula College newspaper, and a review from The Sandpiper, Carmel High School newspaper. Both are concerned with Moral Re-Armament.

According to Rod Holmgren, MPC journalism instructor, the editorial was submitted to a vote of the student staff before publication, as are all editorials. This one received a 12-1 favorable vote. The negative vote was cast because the editorial was "too long."

Wally LeValley, journalism teacher at Carmel High, emphasizes that the signed review from The Sandpiper expresses the opinions of the writer only.

Local Sing Out Proves Failure

By Robin Stevens

(Reprinted from The Sandpiper)

Reviewing it from a musical point-of-view, "Sing-out Monterey" has all the sincerity of an aluminum Christmas tree. Its presentation of enthusiasm seemed about as genuine as something stamped "Made in Japan."

If their aim was a professional show, the mark was missed. Their heart may have been in the right place, but the lack of rehearsal was obvious. In their enthusiasm, the first show was presented prematurely, and the value of good programming was overlooked.

Looking at the entire scope of MRA in a different light, it must be pointed out that participation in the singing group is not a short cut to the bright lights. Its point is not propagation of a series of talent shows, neither is it primarily connected with the world of the theater, a connotation it has popularly taken on.

The musical presentation of song is not the entire breadth and depth, nor the sole end-product of MRA. However, the popular conception is, unfortunately, that the show itself represents Moral Re-Armament in its entirety. This is a shallow and superficial interpretation of MRA's aims. Nevertheless, philosophy aside, it should be said in all fairness that if the arousal of interest in the movement through presentation of a spirited show is the major function of "Sing-out Monterey," the show was a success.

TB ASSOCIATION ELECTED OFFICERS

Dr. Ronald Branson of Monterey was elected president and Mrs. Paul McGaughey of Carmel, first vice president, of the Tuberculosis and Health Association of Monterey County for 1966-67 at the organization's annual meeting on April 19. Chosen as second vice president, secretary and treasurer were, respectively, Dr. Donald Rogers, Mrs. Angie Halferty and John Corbin, all of Salinas.

Dr. Branson presented outgoing president Richard Holbrook with a plaque for outstanding service during his terms in 1963 and 1965.

BEACON HOUSE AUCTION

Work by well known Monterey Peninsula artists has been donated to the Seventh Annual Beacon House Art Auction on Sunday, according to Dr. Donald Taugher, coordinating chairman, also a member of the board of directors of Beacon House, the rehabilitation center in Pacific Grove for alcoholics.

The paintings and sculpture will be auctioned in the Terrace Room of the Mark Thomas Inn starting at 2 p.m.

Jesse Corsaut, portraitist and vice president of the Carmel Art Association, has volunteered to paint a portrait of the guest who makes the highest bid for this opportunity. Corsaut, who was admitted to the staff of Portraits Inc., New York, when he was 21, studied at the Art Students League in New York City.

Twelve coeds from Gamma Sigma Chi, Monterey Peninsula College service club, will serve as hostesses and accept bids at the auction.

As a memorial to the late Kenneth Walker, chairman of last year's auction, his wife, Nancy, has donated a painting by S.F.B. Morse, titled "Monterey Cypress."

Paintings will be on display in the Terrace Room through Sunday morning. Interested art patrons are invited to preview them, and those unable to attend the auction may submit sealed bids at the Mark Thomas Inn desk.

The auction list now includes works by Alma Cantrell, Zita Laky, Walter Landaker, Emile Norman, John Boit Morse, Patricia Cunningham, Caroline Bishop, Jim Brown, Tom Hamill, Richard Hamilton, Joyce Jenkins, Elizabeth Maddux, B. J. Norton, Hans Skaalgaard, Barbara West, Edward Norton Ward, Marjorie Allen, Ephraim Doner, Polly Kahle, S.F.B. Morse and Jesse Corsaut.

Following the annual custom, brunch will be served at noon Sunday. Reservations may be made by calling 624-2256. Tickets for the entire program, brunch included, are $3.50. Tickets to the auction only are $1.

An unusual event at the Galerie de Tours in Carmel is the current exhibit of several pastels by the famed French impressionist painter, Maurice Utrillo.

Utrillo, who was born Christmas Day, 1883, became renowned throughout the world for his colorful vignettes of Montmartre life. Several of his oils have sold in recent years for prices in excess of $100,000.

Galerie de Tours is on Lincoln and Ocean. Hours are 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Glenn H. Cochran, director of the El Cerrito Art Festival, announces that applications are now being accepted for the eighth annual art festival to be held at El Cerrito Plaza, June 23 through 26.

This is one of northern California's biggest and finest art exhibits and will accept work by any painter, sculptor, print maker, ceramist, metal worker, weaver or

NEW ASSOCIATE OF MUSTARD REALTY OFFICE

George H. Pittman and his wife, Helen, have moved to the Monterey Peninsula from Walnut Creek. Mr. Pittman has joined the Jim Mustard realty office in Carmel where he will specialize in the sale of motels, apartments and other income properties.

Mr. Pittman was born in Dallas, Texas. He was in the brokerage and investment business on Wall Street, New York City, for 20 years. For the last nine years he has been active in Walnut Creek as a broker in commercial properties. He is a member of Lions Club International.

Mrs. Pittman is a direct descendant of Captain Miles Standish. She is a member of the Society of Mayflower Descendants and the P.E.O. Sisterhood.

other recognized craftsman of professional, amateur or student classification, if the work is considered eligible for presentation at recognized art exhibits.

Two paintings now grace the walls of the Carmel Fire Station as the result of a recent request from Chief Bob Baker published in this paper. There is room for more pictures in the volunteer firemen's meeting room and Chief Bob wonders if there are other persons, including artists, who would donate or loan seascapes and landscapes to the firemen.

A peace poster contest, open to school children and adults, is being co-sponsored by the Carmel Mission School and All Saints' Episcopal Day School.

The only word that can appear on a poster entry is "Peace," since the work itself should communicate the message.

Posters will be accepted in two categories. The first includes youngsters from first grade through high school. The pupil who prepares the best poster in each grade level will receive a cash prize of $5.

The second category includes anyone from the collegiate level through "senior citizens." The best poster in this group will win $10.

Posters may be either 10 inches by 16 inches or 16 inches by 20 inches and should be delivered to All Saints' Episcopal Church, Ninth and Dolores, any time from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on May 6.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The spiritual basis for overcoming sin will be taken up at Christian Science church services this Sunday.

"Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God: . . . Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not." These verses from I John will be included among the opening readings in the Bible Lesson on "Everlasting Punishment."

Related passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read, including these lines: "What we most need is the prayer of fervent desire for growth and grace, expressed in patience, meekness, love, and good deeds . . . To hold yourself superior to sin, because God made you superior to it and governs man, is true wisdom."

Carmel Students Win DAR Awards

Carmel students were among 36 boys and girls who won awards presented last week by the Commodore Sloat chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, in ceremonies held at Monterey Public Library. Mrs. Carl E. Menneken, Mrs. Carroll S. Stoddard and Dr. A. Boyd Mewburn made the presentations.

Nancy Thompson, Carmel High School senior, won a good citizen pin, awarded for outstanding dependability, service, leadership and patriotism. She was chosen for the honor by her classmates and the high school faculty.

Kristie Gray of Carmel high won a silver thimble for outstanding progress in sewing and a silver spoon for nutrition and cooking.

Among junior high students chosen by classmates and teachers to receive good citizenship medals and lapel pins were Melinda Doud, Carmel Middle School, and Shannon Gregory, Junipero Serra School.

Certificates of merit for outstanding essays submitted in the DAR essay contest were given to Cara Coniglio, Charlene Nicita, Dennis Thelan and Teresa Helm, all from Junipero Serra School. These eighth, seventh and sixth graders were nominated by their history teachers for final selection by the chapter's historian and her committee.

SCRAMP RECEIVES LAGUNA SECA ENTRIES

With little over a week left before the USRRC road races at Laguna Seca, the list of driver entries for this national event is growing fast. Briggs Cunningham, dean of U.S. sports car drivers and one of the men who pioneered the sport in this country, has entered his beautifully prepared Porsche 904 in the Monterey Classic to provide competition for the veteran Ken Miles, who with Lloyd Ruby won both the Daytona 24-hour and the Sebring 12-hour. Miles will be entering in one of Otto Zipper's two Porsche Carreras.

Other entries received this week by SCRAMP, sponsors of the Laguna Seca races, are Don Skogmo, Minneapolis, driving a Genie Mk 8 powered by a 6,000 cc Chevy engine, and Jerry Hansen, Seattle, who has just purchased the Allen Green Bardahl Special, driven in 1965 by Jerry Grant.

Symphony And Choral Society Concert At Sunset On Tuesday

In the fifth, and final, subscription series concert of the 1965-66 season on Tuesday at 8:30 p.m., the Monterey Peninsula Choral Society will join with the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra in a program of Brahms, Stravinsky and Beethoven at Sunset Center auditorium.

Arranged by conductor and director, John Gosling, the program is balanced to give full range to both chorus and orchestra and includes "Song of Fate," by Brahms; "Symphony No. 5 in C minor," by Beethoven, and "Symphony of Psalms," by Stravinsky. For this concert, some tickets will be available at the auditorium box office on the night of the performance.

Subscription seat holders, who will not be using their tickets for the Carmel concert, are urgently requested to call their seat numbers into the symphony association office (624-4125) so that these tickets may be made available to the general public. On the night of the performance the number to call will be 624-9892.

As is now traditional with the final Carmel concert of the season,

RUMMAGE SALE AT ALL SAINTS'

The churchwomen of All Saints' Episcopal Church will hold their annual rummage sale on Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the church Parish Hall at Lincoln and Ninth. Some of the booths being readied will include men's, women's and children's clothing, antiques, housewares, records, picture frames and jewelry.

The snack bar will be open all day for those who wish coffee and cake, and luncheon will be served at noon. Baby-sitting service will be available.

Anyone wishing to donate rummage or secure further information may phone the co-chairmen, Mrs. Dan Potter (624-8912) and Mrs. Fred Terman (624-4905).

CARMEL'S SHARE OF CAR LICENSE FEES

Last Friday, State Controller Alan Cranston reported distribution of $20,015 to Carmel as partial advance on its share of motor vehicle license fees collected this year. Because the fees take the place of a local property tax on automobiles, the money may be used as a contribution to the general fund. The allocation is based on the city's population.

ART STRASBURGER

THIS IS SOMETHING VERY SPECIAL. Four bedrooms, three baths, a two car garage, modern kitchen, fireplace, two sun decks, all in IMMACULATE condition, with a complete panoramic view of the entire Carmel coast line. This is a brand-new listing by BOB COLE and the price is $46,500.00.

DO YOU HAVE A LOT and don't really want to build? We have a brand-new local Architect's home—three bedrooms—two baths—ready for immediate occupancy—located in Del Monte Forest. It is priced at $46,000 and he will take your lot in trade. Call HANNE WANGOE on this interesting situation.

DO YOU HAVE A LARGE FAMILY (or lots of guests) and want to be close to both the village and the beach and in a beautiful Carmel neighborhood? For $50,000 you can get five bedrooms, three baths, separate diningroom, livingroom, family room, two car garage, with an ocean view on two Carmel lots. You would suspect that this must be a termite-ridden forty-year-old board and bat cottage, but it is really good sound, standard construction with a shake roof, but with the need of a little redecoration. Immediate occupancy. Call BUCK BEMIS for further details.

WANT A VERY LARGE LIVINGROOM in a quiet section of Carmel? We have a brand-new home of two bedrooms, powder room, compartmented master bath, and many other desirable features at $36,500. Call RUTH PIERSON at any time. The house is new and vacant and she has the key.

TWO BUILDING SITES SOUTH OF OCEAN and walking distance to the beach. Part of an old estate and never before available. $16,500 each, and an unusual opportunity to secure a building site in just the RIGHT area. Call BUD BIGELOW who has the details. He also has three FAIRWAY lots at MPCC which are choice.

OUTSTANDING LISTING

$140,000.00 WILL DUPLICATE THIS HOME OF DISTINCTION. This custom built home embodies the finest of materials and thoughts of not only the owner but of the architect who studied with Frank Lloyd Wright. This beautiful home is located in a forest like setting in Rancho Rio Vista on 1 acre of land with complete privacy. It is an expandable plan that could be four bedrooms, two baths, or two bedrooms, library, and music room. The construction is of NUMBER 1 CLEAR REDWOOD throughout, hard to find and worth its weight in GOLD. If you can afford this, there is also a heated swimming pool for your added pleasure. The price is very fair at $92,500. EXCLUSIVE.

JUST REMODELED—3 bedroom 2 bath home—close to town and in a bright, sunny location on a 60 x 100' lot. Quality appliances and wall-to-wall carpeting were installed. Also a guest house for the overflow nestles in the charming new garden. Owner has left town and wants to SELL now. Priced right at $37,500.

WANT A LOT OR LOTS? Just 800 ft. to the PINE INN. We have three together, or you may buy only one. Two are $15,000 each, one at $10,000. Make an offer for all THREE. Exclusive.

FOR LEASE, FURNISHED

1. "Hansel" with the crooked chimney and glimpse of ocean. Early Comstock in old oak setting. Just fine for one adult of average size and one canary or kitten. Real kitchen. Available May 15 on lease at $110.

2. Utterly delightful, South of Ocean Ave., three bedroom, one bath, dining room, sun-deck, secluded patio—one of the homes which "put Carmel on the map." Very nicely furnished throughout. Will accommodate two, three or four adults, but no canaries, kitties or other pets and no children, please. Available now at $220 mo. on lease for year or longer. (Gardener provided)

FOR LEASE, UNFURNISHED: Price reduced to $125 mo. for that cozy two bedroom cottage with fireplace, carpets and draperies, on S.W. corner 11th & Mission. Possibility of subletting garage to help pay rent. Adults, no pets. Immediate occupancy.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

—And spell opportunity with capital letters, please! Have you noticed how hospital facilities are increasing and convalescent homes springing up like flowers in May? Yet, not a single shop specializing in the sale of pretty uniforms for the pretty nurses so necessary for the health and happiness of the patients! (Every nurse is pretty in the eyes of the patient to whom she ministers but how many have pretty uniforms?) We offer a well-established business in a strategic location and with an excellent lease—the perfect opportunity to provide uniforms to meet the increasing demand and at the same time continue sell pretty maternity dresses for the pretty mammas, each of whom will welcome joyously that pretty nurse when she comes to place in mamma's arms the world's most beautiful baby. (Those same pretty nurses may be the only source of beauty and comfort in the life of the many, many older patients no longer surrounded by family and friends.) If you are looking for a gold mine for a small investment of money and a large return practically guaranteed, call for an appointment.

SAID THE PROPERTY OWNER:

"We hope you will find a buyer who will appreciate this location as we do, for we have looked at locations all the way from San Diego to San Francisco and do not know of any place more beautiful . . ."

So what is left for us to say? Only that we're sorry the owners can't move here after all, that the property in question is an acre lot in Carmel Highlands about 5 miles south of Carmel, that it has beautiful trees and native shrubs and an ocean view. The price is $26,500 and we can sell it on terms. When would you like to see it?

"BETTER THAN NEW." A wise buyer often prefers a "seasoned" house and so avoids the headaches of new construction. Let someone else worry about settling cracks, sticking doors, etc. This house is 6 years old and "proven"—it is in perfect condition. The garden is fenced and planted for easy maintenance. Floors are carpeted over hardwood, windows have draperies, kitchen is complete with first quality appliances, all in good working condition. This is a home you will find ready to move into without a speck of dust to clear. Does 3 bedrooms, 2 baths suit? How about the price of $39,000 for this fine property near the Carmel High School. One of our competent salesmen can open the doors for you to see. Why wait? Call now.

CARMEL EASY TO CARE FOR HOME. A streamlined arrangement of rooms leaves only a short walk from this modern electric kitchen to any part of the house. This home has all of the amenities of recent construction, electric kitchen, forced air heat, hardwood floors and carpeted full dining room. There are 3 ample sized bedrooms, 1½ baths. Draperies and refrigerator are included at the price in the low $30,000 range. Six blocks from the Village.

Board Disagrees Over $6,500 Cut In Athletics

Dr. Robert Newton voted against this proposal which, he emphasized, was not final board action.

Roland Pilon, driver of a Carmel school bus, made an impassioned plea for the retention of the present two-mile transportation limit. Eleven parents spoke against the proposed transportation change; two supported it.

The proposal to eliminate the district's kindergartens received short shrift from the board after Trustee Dr. Hilton Bialek said, "I am surprised to see this matter appear on the agenda. I think it is an absurd notion."

Loud applause from the audience greeted the board's no action stand on this matter.

The board decided to retain cafeteria service in the schools. Brought out in discussion was the fact that the combined operation of Carmel High and Middle school cafeterias realizes a profit of $14 a day to the district. This income is offset, however, by a six-cent a meal loss in the elementary schools which serve 60,000 meals a year, according to Superintendent Bair. Dr. Newton thought the cafeterias merited retention. Mr. Bair stated that a 50 percent participation of parents in the cafeteria program would eliminate any deficit.

Any decision on eliminating a $20,000 cost for the purchase of books for school libraries was delayed until the board has a more complete knowledge of next year's budget requirements. A petition signed by 23 persons sought retention of this item.

The proposal to eliminate one teacher at Captain Cooper School did not meet with board approval. Fifteen parents from this school at Big Sur were present in the audience to support a plea for keeping the present staff of three teachers, but the board retained the right to review this decision if enrollment at Captain Cooper next year falls below the expected 60 pupils.

The moot question of whether or not the elementary summer school program benefited teachers more than "guinea pig" pupils resulted in the board's decision to cut $3,000 from the proposed $18,000 cost of this program. On the advice of Mr. Bair, the English workshop for teachers, cost $6,300, was eliminated.

When the matter of the school district supporting the high school interscholastic athletics program arose, Dr. Bialek stated that a meeting he and Trustee Steven Sassoon had attended resulted in the Carmel High School Boosters Club agreeing to give financial support to this program. Thomas Tousey, president of the club, reaffirmed this support and stated that already he had received pledges amounting to $2,000 and, if necessary, was sure more funds could be raised.

"We'll give it a good try," he promised.

Mr. Sassoon moved that the district pay only the coaches' salaries, $11,000, in the coming school year. The motion passed with Trustees Roxana Blanks and Clayton Neill Jr. voting "No." This action cut $6,500 from the proposed $17,500 cost.

ONE YEAR OLD

During a recess Monday night, Commissioner Jean van Loben Sels produced a cake impressively decorated with "Happy Birthday" and one candle, a freezer of ice cream and coffee in celebration of the Sunset Commission having completed one year of service to the city. Mrs. Jeanie Morgan Klenke, Mrs. Effie Mead and Councilman Gunnar Norberg, who comprised the audience, were invited to share the refreshments with commissioners and Hugh Bayless, commission secretary, and the press.

Peter Dyer was reelected chairman of the commission earlier in the evening. Rear Admiral C. W. Fisher (USN Ret.) was elected vice chairman.

Dr. Newton pointed out that district funds only partially supported the athletic program which also received funds from gate receipts at interscholastic games.

"We never proposed that this program be discontinued, just elimination of the district's funds budgeted for this purpose," he emphasized.

"We have no intent not to keep the entire program if the means to do so is raised. We hope many parents of students interested in this particular program will feel a responsibility for its financial support," he stressed.

Proposed areas still to be considered to enable the board to eliminate the $127,000 deficit because of the override failure are shortening the high school daily schedule to save $42,000 and elimination of one administrator and one elementary school librarian, saving $20,000.

There is also likely to be a minimum ten percent across the board reduction in administrators, teachers, specialists, clerical and custodial staffs.

SPECIAL MEETING SUNDAY FOR LUTHERAN CHURCH

Pastor E. J. Cornelis, executive vice president of the South Pacific District of the American Lutheran Church, will officiate at the organization meeting of St. Philip's Lutheran Church of Carmel on Sunday at 4 p.m. in the temporary meeting place at the Carmel Middle School. At that time, the young congregation, which has a committed membership at present of about 60 baptized souls from 20 families, will become an official member of the American Lutheran Church.

Items for the organizational meeting will include adoption of a constitution, election of officers, a resolution to incorporate and the call of the pastor.

The following Sunday, the Reverend Bernhard J. Brethelm, pastor of St. Philip's will conduct a service of reception for all those who will be joining the church. Pastor Brethelm maintains his office in the parsonage at Flanders Drive and Canyon Drive north of Carmel High School.

Planners Strengthen Landscaping Control

Landscaping required for new or remodeled buildings in the commercial zone shall not only be established but henceforth guaranteed maintenance before a building permit is granted, Carmel planners resolved yesterday. After considerable debate on the merits of friendly persuasion, the planning commission agreed to recommend to the city council a simple form of agreement by which the required percentage of landscaping will be kept in the condition indicated by the permit seekers on their plans.

Commissioners Fred Keeble and George Willox were appointed to the committee to meet with the Sunset Commission committee on the matter of appropriate zoning of Sunset Center. Barney Laiolo, requested by Chairman Dorothy von Meier to act as a third member, agreed to participate in analyzing the problem but stated that further participation might be impossible due to conflict of other appointments.

The commission adopted a budget of $2,175 for 1966-67, slightly lower than the previous year's budget of $2,325.

Approved was John Zack's request to create one building site out of two half-lots on the east side of Carpenter between First and Second, provided that plans for any structures on the site be submitted to the design review board before the issuance of a permit. Mrs. Marian Kreger's plea for a variance in setback from front property line, due to the extreme slope of the land, also was accepted.

G.K.G. Associates and John H. Gamble received approval for the remodeling of business premises, formerly known as the Little Gem Laundromat, on Junipero near Fourth; Ralph Stean, for the construction of an office center on Mission near Fourth.

The planners also recommended for acceptance signs for the Church in the Round, Crichton House, Carmel Wines and Liquor, The Scottish Shop and California American Water Company.

Commissioners commended Mrs. von Meier on her letter to the county board of supervisors in connection with a request of The Title Insurance and Trust Co. of Salinas for numbering, instead of naming, of Monterey County subdivisions for identification purposes. In expressing the planners' unequivocal aversion to such a scheme, she wrote "We vehemently oppose the substitution of 93921 for Rancho Rio Vista, for instance."

ROTARIANS HEAR TALK ON CIVIL DISOBEDIENCE

Attorney Dick Wilsdon introduced attorney Dale W. Junta as the guest speaker at Carmel Rotary luncheon meeting Wednesday. Mr. Junta is associated with the law firm of Millard and Tourangeau. He talked about open defiance of civil law today. Mr. Junta pointed out that open defiance of civil law is usually carried out by minority groups appealing to the public on the basis of being underdogs. He pointed out that this conduct is only tolerated in a free type of government such as ours. He said we must protect our rights of free speech and expression but it can only be up to the point where it is getting out of hand.

The speaker for May 4 will be State Senator Vernon L. Sturgeon of Paso Robles, Republican candidate for the 17th California Senate District.

Chaperones for the outing were John Farr, band director, Mrs. George Chilson, Mrs. Arlow Pitcher, Bernard Laiolo and Robert Stephenson. Band members earned the money to pay for the expedition.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE RADIO PROGRAM

"Why Blame God" is the title of the program scheduled to be broadcast next Sunday over station KGO at 7:30 a.m., on the Christian Science radio series, "The Bible Speaks to You." It will explain the spiritual dominion God gives to man and tell how His power works only to bless.
